

Peak physical therapy volunteers for Father Bill's emergency shelter

The staff at Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance Scituate Clinic recently volunteered their time to prepare 50 bagged lunches for people served by Father Bill's program on the South Shore.

The staff purchased items and prepared the sandwiches, snacks, fruit and water for the bagged lunches and delivered them to Father Bill's emergency shelter for distribution. Peak's other clinics are also scheduled for prepare and deliver lunches to the shelter. For more than 30 years, Father Bill's has been serving individuals, veterans and families to prevent homelessness, provide basic shelter and needs and find housing on the South Shore.

"As members of the community we appreciate the great work that Father Bill's does on the South Shore," said Eric Edelman, owner of Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance. "Our team enjoyed the opportunity to work together on this small project and we encourage other businesses to take advantage of this opportunity to help out."

The staff at Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance Scituate Clinic recently volunteered their time to prepare 50 bagged lunches for people served by Father Bill's program on the South Shore. [COURTESY PHOTO]

