BUSINESS PEOPLE ON THE MOVE

SPOTLIGHT

Pauline Fournier, of Quincy, a career consultant and executive coach with more than 25 years of experience in business and coaching, has joined Boston-based career transition firm as a career consultant where she will provide career consulting to professionals at all levels. She formerly worked at Lee Hecht Harrison, a leading global talent mobility services company, where she started as a Certified Associate in 2009 before being promoted to lead consultant for the company's Boston office in 2014. Fournier earned a bachelor of arts degree from Northeastern University.

BENEFITS ADMINISTRATION

Daniel Wandell of Rockland has joined Comprehensive Benefit Administrators of Norwell as an account manager for its partners benefit group division. Prior to joining the CBA family of companies, he was an account manager at Bruce Cohn Benefit in Cambridge and Arthur J. Gallagher in Quincy, where he was a Benefit Consultant and Benefit Analyst. A Hofstra University graduate, he is a native of Pembroke. He serves on the executive board of Boston Healthcare for the Homeless Programs Emerging Leaders, and also coaches varsity football and varsity wrestling at Thayer Academy.

PHYSICAL THERAPY

Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance, a South Shore practice specializing in orthopedic, spine and sports medicine specialties, has named Julie Messinger of Plymouth, as office manager of the Scituate clinic. Prior to joining Peak, Messinger, who has a bachelor of science in exercise physiology from Westfield State University, was an exercise physiologist and gymnastics coach.
