

Peak Physical Therapy now accepting donations for Rosie's Place

Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance, 645 Washington St., Hanover, is presently accepting donations for Rosie's Place, a Boston shelter for poor and homeless women.

The Hanover clinic is now collecting warm winter clothing and canned food items for the charitable organization; a mitten tree stands in the lobby, as does a box for donated canned goods.

"During this festive time of year, it's important to remember that not everyone is experiencing comfort and joy," said Eric Edelman, owner of Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance. "This is our way of lending a little support to the many women who rely on Rosie's Place for shelter and sustenance."
