

Peak Physical Therapy announces new physical therapist

Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance announced that Jane Matthews, of Scituate, has joined the firm, working on a Per Diem basis from the practice's Scituate location.

Matthews has practiced for more than 25 years in varied rehabilitation settings, with experience in clinic management and development and management of spinal programs. Her primary focus is in outpatient orthopedics, with a special interest in spine care.

She is a graduate of Northeastern University with a degree in physical therapy.

A South Shore native, Williams recently moved back to Scituate with her family from Southern New Hampshire.

Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance announced that Jane Matthews, of Scituate, has joined the firm, working on a Per Diem basis from the practice's Scituate location.

[COURTESY PHOTO]

"Jane's comprehensive approach to treatment and patient education is outstanding," said Eric Edelman, owner of Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance. "Her focus is steadfast on patient driven goals; we are delighted to have her join our practice."

