

Peak Physical Therapy presents Shoulder Injury Prevention presentation

Zachery Wagner, of Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance, recently offered a free program on shoulder injury prevention for baseball players at the Atlantic Baseball Club in Hanover.

Wagner's areas of expertise include treating athletes of all ages, specifically with swimmers, throwers and overhead athletes; in addition, he is trained to treat vestibular disorders. He is of the belief that educating patients is one of the most important aspects of the rehabilitation process.

Wagner received his Doctorate of Physical Therapy from the Massachusetts General Hospital Institute of Health Professions and is also a certified strength and conditioning specialist.

"We are pleased to offer the community educational programs on wellness and injury prevention," said Eric Edelman, owner of Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance. "Zach brings a comprehensive background in treating all types of orthopedic diagnoses that bring great value to athletes at every level."
