

Meade joins Peak Physical Therapy

Peak Physical Therapy and Sports Performance, a South Shore practice specializing in programs providing comprehensive treatment in orthopedic, spine and sports medicine specialties, announced that Samantha Meade joined the Scituate clinic as a physical therapy aide.

A native of Hamilton, Meade earned a Bachelor of Science in exercise science from Salem State University. In her new role, she will assist the physical therapists in working with patients on their exercise programs. Meade resides in Marshfield and enjoys ice skating, guitar, jewelry making and going to country concerts with her family.

Samantha Meade has joined Peak Physical Therapy and Sports Performance as a physical therapy aide.

[COURTESY PHOTO]

"Samantha's interest has grown from sports performance into rehabilitation," said Eric Edelman, physical therapist and owner of Peak Physical Therapy and Sports Performance. "Samantha has excellent people skills and is able to put patients at ease during treatment. She is a great addition to our Scituate clinic."

For information, visit <https://peaktherapy.com>.

