

Peak Physical Therapy receives Wicked Local's 2018 readers choice awards

Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance swept the Physical Therapy category in the 2018 Wicked Local Readers Choice Awards, taking home gold, silver and bronze.

Wicked Local readers honored all four of Peak's clinics, Norwell, Scituate, Quincy, Hanover, with a total of four Readers Choice awards, including gold, silver and bronze levels.

Each year, Wicked Local asks its readers to cast their vote for regional favorites in a wide range of categories; winners of this year's The Best in Town and The Best Around competition will be published in a special Wicked Local section.

"We're thrilled to be so highly regarded on a regional level," said Eric Edelman, owner of Peak Physical Therapy & Sports Performance. "Knowing that clients took the time to recognize our practice as a 'best' means the world to me and the entire Peak staff."

Peak is presently celebrating its 10th anniversary, a decade marked by consistent growth in staff, locations, services and client base. The 38-member staff includes doctors of physical therapy, physical therapists, physical therapy assistants, practice managers, women's and men's health specialists, rehabilitation aides and administrative personnel
